

Village of Wausaukee History 1883 to Present

The compiling of our Wausaukee history on the web was started by Photographer Brian Hartnell of Wausaukee in 1997. The information existed in many forms but was not put together in a way that allowed us to travel thru time to see how the area developed.

The World Wide Web allows us to manipulate data so that people can browse the information at their leisure from the comfort of their own home computer.

The point and click nature of the web and computers opens up many layers of information when you are ready to view it.

We continue to develop the data and update the web site as we collect it and the version number will tell you where we are by the MM-DD-YYYY serial number printed on the CD and the Web Site.
